

Former President of Canadian Medical Association exposes Health Care Problems in Canada

08/20/2009

Dr. Brian Day former head of Canadian Medical Association said;

In a country with a population of 30 million people...

- Five Million people in Canada do not have a family doctor (15.5% of the population).
- There is a 3.5 year average wait to get assigned a family doctor.
- Over one million are on a waiting list for surgery of all kinds .
- Over two million are on a waiting list for testing.
- 70% of Canadians must carry private prescription insurance to get the drugs they need because they are not covered by the Canadian Health System.
- In a recent world survey Canada came in last of all countries in health care value for each dollar spent.
